BROWN COUNTY WOMAN DRINKS ACID AND JUMPS IN POND

Mrs. Emanuel Cowdrey, aged 59, After Dripking Carbolic Acid Is Found In Shallow Pond on Farm.

Georgetown, Ohio, Dec. 21. - Th eath of Mrs. Emanuel Cowdrey, aged 59 years, of Pike township, Brown county, was surrounded by most unfortunate and lamentable circumstances. The Cowdrey homestead is located near Shiloh church and has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cowdrey for forty years. Mrs. Cowdrey had been in failing health for some time, but was able to continue her household duties. A few days ago, continue, and further to assure our after preparing breakfast and putting the house in order she left the house. Her husband had preceded her in some work at the barn, and when he returned to the house found his wife missing. He thought nothing of the matter, however, concluding that she was looking after the poultry or other duties, but after a few minutes' time, finding her still missing, he instituted a search about the house, as well as at the poultry house and barn, and upon his return to the house he discovered an empty carbolic acid bottle and cup on the kitchen table. He telephoned the neighbors and a search of the farm was instituted. The body of the unforunate woman was found lying face downward in a pond with scarcely enough water to cover her face. Bringing the body to the bank, is was found that she had been dead but a few minutes.

The Cowdreys had recently purchased property in Georgetown to make their home here. It is thought that she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and together with the worry because of leaving the old home farm, as well as the failing health of her husband, led her to use the means which caused her death.

KENTUCKY FEUD MAY HAVE BEEN TRANSFERRED TO WEST

Poculiar Murder of Kentucky Woman At Los Angeles, California, Caused Careful Investigation By Police.

A Los Angeles, California, dispatch

"Has a Kentucky feud been transferred to Pomona, Los Angeles county Mrs. Katherine Swain, 28 years old, formerly of Lexington, Ky., was found shortly after midnight Tuesday drugged, bound and burned to death in her home. The author of the crime thus far has not been identified. The writer of an anonymous letter which Mrs Swain received last Saturday said:

"I failed to get you last night but will get you next time." Last night 't is conceded refers to a first arson at tempt against Mrs. Swain's home. This failed because of the timely discovery of the flames.

Coroner Nance today ordered handwriting expert to study the letter which was written in a feminine hand Following last Friday's arson attempt the police have ascertained that Mrs. Swain told her neighbors that she eared for her life and feared for her daughter, Jessie, 7 years old. Facts learned by the police throw a substantiating light upon the feud spirit. They have learned that the family was twice in business in Lexington and that they gave up both times when they no longer could stand threats directed against Mrs. Swain.

BIDDING HIGH ON A DECLINING MARKET.

Action of City Council at its last session in adopting a salary prevention of the introduction of disschedule increasing the city's overhead expenses is not generally looked upon by the tax paying public as the best of business judg-

It is a strange fact that level headed business men, elected to public office, do not use the same good business judgment in public affairs they display in the management of their own affairs. It is certain that the members of council who are now employing men or women in their own business are not increasing salaries. On the other hand, in many local industries salaries are being reduced rather than increased.

The Public Ledger has never favored a reduction in the present salaries of our city officials, but has opposed increases such as Council has made and we yet believe the Councilmen will, before they have wrestled with the city's fiscal affairs for long, realize they have erred.

Had the present City Council continued its original course in reducing the tax payers' burden, they would have served the public better and would have received from the public due praise. Their abolishing of useless offices, however, has not benefitted the tax payer for they have increased the salaries of othr officials to a much larger sum than that which they had saved. It might have been better to have left matters as they were, for, then the money would have been distributed among more people.

Councilmen must not forget that they are the servants of the people and that they are spending the people's money. While an increased tax levy on the valuation which may be fixed upon the property some o fthe councilmen purchased in order to qualify as free holders may not be a burdensome sum, there are property owners to whom tax paying is serious.

Go slow gentlemen and don't bid high on declining markets.

MAYSVILLE'S MERRY CHRISTMAS

It's not to boast of our, good deeds, but that the deeds of good men may not go unrecorded.

Maysville is the best spot on earth.

There are more big hearted, open pursed people in Maysville than in any other community of the same size that we know anything about. More different agencies are at work in Maysville this week to see that Christmas is real to every man, woman and child living between Dieterich's Lane and Glycerine Hollow than in the same area elsewhere.

Our business men, headed by Colonel "Billy" Stockton, whose heart is only limited by the size of his ability to do or to induce others to do, will see that not a child within reaching distance will spent Christmas without candy, fruits and toys. The order of Elks, spent Christmas without candy, fruits and toys. The older of this known the world over as "The Best People On Earth," will furnsh Christmas dinner to three hundred poor families and that great allyear-round friend of the poor, The City Mission, will have practical gifts, donated by the school children, for every poor man, woman and child in Maysville and its suburbs.

The knowledge that hundreds of hearts will be glad on Christmas that might have been sad, but for these efforts, should make a happier Christmas for those who have had a part in any of them.

AGAIN THE WATER QUESTION.

Maysville is not to have a filtration plant by the means employed in our behalf by the State Board of Health and yet the water question remains unsolved.

Upon suggestion of Councilman Dodson, a special committee has been named consisting of three councilmen and four prominent business men to talk over matters with the water company in an effort to reach some solution of the water problem. We like this gettogether idea. It's much better than the court room way and Maysville's experience has been that it is much more successful in this water issue. It was when Mayor Russell named a citizen's committee and that committee "talked it over" with the company that we got new electrically driven pumps. Let's hope that this new committee will be as successful as the old committee and get a filtration plant.

Present conditions are not so serious as they were months ago but the system of purification now used, or something else in the water, is causing the plumbing in the city to go to the bad and plumbers' bills are entirely too frequent.

We hope this committee and the water company will save us from the plumbers and give us good water.

OUR NEW EAGLES' HOME

The youngest fraternal organization of any size in Maysville, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, has purchased a home and announces that improvements of such a material character will be put upon and into the building that it will be one of the most attractive lodge homes in Kentucky.

This new organization, its officials and membership, is to be congratulated upon this demonstration of thrift and desire to be properly housed and contribute to the substantial improvement of the

Although young is years, the local lodge of Eagles has a glorious record of achievement. They have done much for others and now propose to do for themselves.

We, of Maysville, who are not members of the feathered flock, congratulate them, and, with them, shall be very proud of the new Fagles' Home.

Whenever certain types board his car he smiles pleasantly in an authoritative fashion. "Getting off, at the Neighborhood Players?" For the unenlightened I will say that the Neighborhood Players run the Neighborhood Playhouse on Grand street, probably the most remote theater in New York but whose productions are always worth the trip. His judgment is invariable, ard the persons addressed always look surprised and pleased to admit that he has guessed their destination. It would be interesting to know how he can determine these people. Those very well dressed, smart people to the serious but shabby students of the t'eater. Speaking of social conduct, public and private, indications are that this will be a rude winter in New York. Every now and then we get a swing toward a definite method in our conversational conduct. We are not consistently exertive in sugaring our passing conversations with people as in England, for instance. In England you always thank the clerk for your change, just as if it were a rare favor on his part to return you your just due, and the clerk will even thank you for inquiring for something which he does not have. It becames a habit and as such is commendable, but this season in New York it is ver-dissimilar. The conductors make their "Step lively!" a little more staccato, the subway guards are positively peremp1 tory in their directions an dthe clerks in the stores are moer firm than polite. And grande dame about the portals of the exclusive hotels seems to take personal pride in giving tart direction sto her chauffeur and he in turn, becomes coldly acquiescent. The corner policeman has no time for the cheery chat which greeted us last summer, but scowls and seem a bit hasty in atting you right in traffic direction. -NY-Admiral Tsai Ting Kan has given the women some sound advice in a recent speech. He decries the practice of allowing the husband to become a moster in the art of frying eggs, sewing on buttons and doing other household duties, not because it makes him work but because it makes the husband independent of the wife and that is fatal for the successful handling of the domestic problem. According to the Admiral, the emancipation of given by the speaker on Monday. women may be best accomplished by keeping the husband dependent. These 100.00 orientals have a great many wise things to tell us and this may be important after all.

OF KENTUCKY GAVE STATE GOOD LAWS

Many Laws Unfair to Women of the State Were Removed and Safer Laws Passed Through Women's Early Efforts.

It was gratifying to those who heard Hon. Stanley F. Reed speak at the court house Monday, December 12, to lear nthat the laws of Kentucky conboth interesting and just that Miss Hilda Threlkeld should have reminded this generation of women how much of this righetous legislation is due to the unrequitted toil of the women who composed the Kentucky Equal Rights Association While these advanced laws were passed after the Kentucky Equal Rights Association arganized in 1888, had spent time, effort and money in educating public opinion.

They found one the statute books a law that permitted a husband to collect his wife's wages. From the General Assembly of 1890 they secured a law which made a wife's wages payable only to herself.

At that too, a wife did not have to sign a chattel mortgage, and if her husband were in sufficient need of money to buy drink, he could mortgage the sewing machine with which she earne dthe family living or their cooking store or their bed to satisfy his thirst.

From the Constitutional convention in 1890 they secured a provision in the Constitution empowering the General Assembly to regulate school elections and to extend school suffrage to women by a section providing for such elections separately.

They found Kentucky the only state that did not permit a married woman to make a will. From the General Assembly of 1892-93 they secured a law giving a married woman the right to make a will and control her real estate.

They found that marriage gave to the husband all the wife's personal property which could be reduced to ossession, and the use of all her real estate owned at the time or acquired by her after marriage, with power to rent the same for not more than three

They found that the common law of lossoms in the ground we will go courtesy and dower prevailed whereby on the death of the wife, the husband inherited absolutely all personalty not theretofore reduced to pos session, and when there were children. a life interest in all her real estate: while the wife when there were children, inherited one-third of her husband's personalty and a life interest in one-third of his real estate possessed during marriage.

> From the General Assembly of 1894 they secured the enactment of the present righteous husband and wife law, the main features of which were When the agitation for this change in the law was being made, the type of woman who now says: "The laws of Kentucky are good enough for me' (through she would not perhaps wish to be examined on what the laws are then said quite indignantly: "If I can trust him with myself, I can trust hin rearing, married to a man in a differLatest Phonograph Records Are Here

BLAME THE CAPTAIN.

Five sailors are being held under heavy bail to appear against a man, believed to be the leader of the rumsmugglers in New York and New Jersey. They brought the schooner, the J. B. Young, into New York harbor after running up and dow nthe coast outside Sandy Hook, for several days. They claimed the captain left the vessel and that they knew nothing of navigation. There were 300 cases of liquor on board the J. B. Young when it reached port.

STARTLING ALIBI.

A confectioner of Utica, N. Y., startled the judge, when arraigned in court for having liquor in his passession illegally, by declaring that the alcohol was not for his own consumption but to allay the thirst of his pet three-legged calf. This calf is one of the attractions at the county fairs in the neighborhood of Utica.

PEPTO-MANGAN KEEPS BLOOD PURE

Growing Children Need Plenty of Red Cells In Blood.

When the young body is growing, children frequently experience weakness. Girls and boys sometimes play too hard and over-tax their systems. They lose their appetites, become languid, and are not able to make progress in school work. "Growing too fast" is often true. It is most important to keep the blood of growing girls and boys in a healthy state. Pepto-Mangan keeps the blood pure. The red cells in the blood are increased. They carry life-giving oxygen to in Falmouth, and his prospects for all parts of the body, and wholesome youthfulness blooms again in clear complexions, bright eyes and buoyant spirits. Sold both in liquid and tablet form by druggists everywhere. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package.—Advertisement.

With Shot Gun After Being Unable to Find Work.

Unable to buy Christmas present for his bride, Mrs. Hilda Huffman, to whom he was married six weeks ago, Arthur Huffman, 21 years old, Falmouth, Ky., shot and killed himself at the home of his grandfather, John Smith, near Falmouth, early Tuesday morning.

Filled with the confidence and hope of youth, Huffman married Miss Hilda Lightfoot, of Falmouth, during the second week in November. At that time he was employed by a liveryman happiness were bright. Several weeks ago he lost his position, and since then he has been unable to obtain employment.

Relatives said yesterday he had appeared to become more despondent each day as the Christmas season neared.

"This will be our first Christmas together, and I have no money with which to buy my wife a present to show my love for her," he was heard to remark.

Early Tuesday morning Huffman went to the home of his grandfather. After holding a conversation with members of the family he climbed to the second floor. In a few minutes the report of a gun was heard and the grandfather hurried upstairs. He dead. A double-barreled shot gun was

CHILO OWNERS APPLY FOR LIMITED LIABILITY

Owners of Sunken Ohio River Steamer Ask Injunction Against Damage Suits and Adjusting Commissioner.

Threats of damage suits by persons losing freight in the sinking of the steamer Chilo on November 17 caused the Cincinnati, Pomeroy and Charleston Packet Company, owner of the boat, Tuesday to apply to the United State Court for the benefit of the limted liability law. By that act damages that can be recovered are limited not to exceed the amount realized from salvaging the wreck. The company says that for the Chilo that amount the freight saved it will be not more than $250. The company says the sinking of the Chilo was due solely to the unusual eddy and strong current prevailing at Dam 35 at the time the liver government freight, and that the accident was without fault or neglect of the officers and crew of the Chilo. The court is asked to issue its injunction against the bringing of damage suits and to name a commissioner to adjust claims growing out of the

Although the latter are not receiving their money yet, still they are mighty well satisfied at the prospects for making nice profits on their weed when they do sell at the figures that are being paid now.

Up to Saturday the Home house sold 453,000 pounds of tobacco for a total average of $30.45 per hundred pounds. On Monday sales amounted to 175.425 pounds for an average of $31.25.
